

BENTO VOLUME LICENSING

SAVE YOUR ORGANIZATION MONEY WITH BENTO VOLUME LICENSING

What is Bento Volume Licensing?

Volume licensing is a discount program open to anyone purchasing 10 or more Bento licenses. Bento Volume Licensing saves you money and helps you get more out of your software investment than purchasing single user licenses.

What are the benefits of Bento Volume Licensing?

- Saves you money. Receive volume discounts off standard prices.
- Makes installation and license management easy. With Volume Licensing you'll get a single license key for all your licenses of Bento.
- Additional discounts for education and non-profit customers.

How many Bento licenses do I need?

You will want one Bento license per computer that needs to open Bento.

Minimum order quantities to qualify for Bento volume licensing

Bento volume licensing programs are for purchases of 10 or more licenses. Customers with current volume license contracts may purchase additional licenses in quantities of less than 10. You cannot combine Bento volume licensing with FileMaker volume licensing to reach the minimum order quantity. Nor can Bento volume licensing orders be combined with other FileMaker volume licensing orders. A separate purchase order is required.

Maintenance

Bento volume licensing does NOT include Maintenance. Maintenance is only available for FileMaker volume licensing.

What volume licensing purchase options are available?

There are two purchase options. A Bento licensing specialist can help you choose the right licensing program for you.

Volume License

The Volume License program is our most popular program.

- License only what you require. This is a transactional license program with no signed contracts.
- Add more licenses at any time. Simply reference your previous license contract to add additional licenses as you need them.
